

Linda Darling Bio

Linda Darling received a BA from the University of California, Berkeley and an MFA from Yale University School of Art, New Haven, CT and attended the Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture in Skowhegan, ME. She currently lives and works in Brooklyn, NY.

Selected solo exhibitions include White Columns NY, Judy Ann Goldman Fine Arts in Boston, MA . Selected group exhibitions include CRG Gallery, NY; Bellwether Gallery, NY; Caren Golden Gallery, NY; The Aldrich Contemporary Art Museum, CT; Boston Center for the Arts, MA; Real Art Ways, CT and New Langton Arts, CA. Awards and residencies include the Alice Kimball Traveling Fellowship, Anderson Ranch Arts Center Snowmass Village, CO printmaking resident, The Watkins Award, New Langdon Arts, San Francisco, CA and Maybell Toombs Award Her work is held in multiple public and private collections including the Addison Gallery of American Art, Andover, MA

Selected teaching positions include Yale University School of Art, Bard College and Anderson Ranch Arts Center. She presently teaches at the New York Studio School and has been an instructor both for both the academic school term, as well as the Summer Marathon since 2005.